

IC3M2 Course Learning Outcomes

To successfully complete IC3M2 course, you need to:

- Distinguish between the different types of computers
- Identify the basic components of personal computer
- Identify the different peripheral devices
- Identify the internal component of the computer
- Distinguish between different types of storage devices
- Starting up the computer
- Understand the meaning of computer software
- Understand the different types of software
- Understand the meaning of Software licenses
- Understand the meaning of operating system
- Differentiate between types of the operating systems
- Differentiate between the types of application software
- Install and uninstall software
- Know what is available on Windows 10 desktop
- Understand the meaning of files and folders
- Manage files and folders by creating, deleting, copying, moving, pasting and renaming files and folders
- Understand the meaning of file extensions and identify the different file extensions
- Compress and decompress files and folders
- Exiting the computer properly
- Maintain the computer using Disk cleanup and Defragmentation tools

Recommended online Sources:

- <https://edu.gcfglobal.org/en/topics/computers/>
- https://www.tutorialspoint.com/computer_fundamentals/index.htm